

MANY VICTIMS TO SCORCHING HEAT

New York City Still in the Grasp of a Torrid Wave.

IT BREAKS RECORD

Mercury Up to 104 on Streets at Noon Today, and Is Growing Hotter.

WHOLE COUNTRY HOT

Washington, July 1.—The weather bureau today issued a bulletin stating that the hot wave continues over the entire country east of the Rockies and that it will continue today and Tuesday.

New York, July 1.—New York is in the grasp of a torrid wave. Heat is killing young and old. Minds are giving way because of the terrible scorching that is being experienced by the city, and four men are reported to have destroyed themselves by the burning sun.

Twenty persons were killed yesterday by sunstroke, and the list of victims reached the number of six at midnight. Of these, three cannot recover and all are in a critical condition.

Deaths are dying by the hundreds. The heat makes matters worse there is a fire in sight. The hot sun is upon the streets of the city today with a force of 104 degrees.

Twenty-two death reports had been received by noon. What the afternoon will bring no man can tell unless a cold wave should sweep up of which there is no hope. Mortality will be enormous.

Five Pitiless Days. Five days the city has been in the grasp of a torrid wave. The first two were unbearable, but the death list was relatively small until Saturday, when it reached half a score with a score of prostrations. The fact that it was Sunday alone is reason for the small number of prostrations, when the terrible heat was taken into consideration.

Also saved the horses. Two hundred and fifty died Saturday, but as not many were in harness yesterday the list killed was small, although it was reported at midnight that about thirty bodies were lying in the various streets and stables.

Never before, according to government records covering thirty-one years has so high a temperature been recorded for a June day as that of today.

Streets Are Unendurable. High up in the air where the civil service records are made, a minimum temperature of 98 degrees was registered at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Down near the sunbaked pavements, where mortals less favored than those in the tower to live and move, and wilt and droop, the thermometer at noon had run its needle up the dial to the point marked 104.

Washington Is Suffering. July 1.—Intense heat yesterday and far from a cloudless sky, there was scarcely a temper the atmosphere, the afternoon the weather bureau said it maintained throughout the evening, but today but relief is expected.

Philadelphia. July 1.—The mercury one hundred on the streets and several deaths and prostrations are reported.

Baltimore. July 1.—The heat is one hundred and two. The business sections are comparatively deserted.

Very Hot in St. Louis. St. Louis, July 1.—The intense heat still has St. Louis in its grasp. At an early hour this morning it was and scores of prostrations are reported today.

Over 90 in Chicago. Chicago, July 1.—The thermometer registered ninety at ten o'clock and the prospects are that a heat record will be broken today. Numerous prostrations are reported this morning. There is intense suffering in the ghetto and other crowded districts.

Havana as a Mission Field. New York, July 1.—It is the intention of several mission boards in this city to begin religious work in Havana this fall. The Presbyterian board of home missions is one of them, and the Congregationalists and Episcopalians will enlarge work already begun there. All intend to build churches.

PORTAGE WILL NOT GET THAT $20,000

The Appropriation by the Legislature Has Been Declared Unconstitutional.

Madison, Wis., July 1.—The act passed by the last legislature appropriating $20,000 for the extension and improvement of the Wisconsin river levee at Portage is unconstitutional according to the opinion of Attorney General Hicks; for the reason that it violates the provision of the constitution which prevents the state from contracting any debt for the work of internal improvements.

SEVERE STORM AT VIROQUA

Damage Amounting to $100,000 Caused by Rain and Lightning. Viroqua, Wis., July 1.—A terrific storm Saturday night caused a property loss of nearly $100,000 to the city and immediate vicinity. The storm traversed a territory six or three miles in extent. Many buildings were struck by lightning and several horses and many hogs and sheep killed by lightning.

PLAGUE SPREADING ALL OVER CHINA

Tocoma, July 1.—The steamer Kin-tuck brings news from the Orient that the plague is spreading with great rapidity among the Chinese at Amoy, Swatow, Canton, Konkong and Formosa.

The general belief exists among the Chinese that their people will be decimated by plague this year. The superstition prevails so that the Chinese are taking no precautions and hundreds are dying daily.

General Shafter Is Retired

San Francisco, Cal., July 1.—Two important military events occurred at he Presidio yesterday, the retirement of Major General W. R. Shafter and the mustering out of four volunteer regiments. General Shafter went on the retired list at noon, when he formally transferred the command of the department of California to Major General S. M. B. Young.

In the afternoon the Forty-Fourth, Forty-Eighth and Thirty-Eighth volunteer regiments were mustered out. Over $1,000,000 was disbursed.

Confession Is Confirmed

Tamaqua, Pa., July 1.—All doubts as to the veracity of the deathbed confession made by John Ballard in the Mahoning Valley several days ago, in which he confessed he murdered Joel Davidson three years ago, afterward throwing his body into a well, have been dispelled. The skeleton of Davidson was found in the well.

VOLUNTEER ARMY MUSTERED OUT; M'KINLEY PROUD OF ITS RECORD

Entire Force Organized for the Spanish-American and Philippine Wars is Retired to Private Life Within the Time Required by Law.

Washington, D. C., July 1.—Today the last of the magnificent volunteer army of the United States was mustered out of service, and the majority of the 35,000 officers and men of that organization have returned to civil life.

W. R. SHAFTER. The president and the war department officials are much gratified with the successful disbandment of this army within the time fixed by law.

Only those who know the limitations and difficulties of the transport service can appreciate the magnitude of the task of bringing this army home across 10,000 miles of ocean, since the passage of the army reorganization act, a little less than four months ago.

At the war department there is nothing but praise for this splendid body of men, and it is a matter of congratulation to Secretary Root and his associates that so many of the experienced volunteer officers have enlisted permanently into the military service of the country by taking commissions in the regular army.

It is believed that at least 75 per cent of the young officers who have taken the examination for second lieutenants in the regular army will pass.

It is also a matter of congratulation that the ranks of the regular army have received so many recruits from the volunteer veterans. As expressed by an official of the department today in passing on the volunteer army, the country can well feel proud of the record that this organization has made.

It is just about two years since the first recruits were enlisted in this army, and the months that ensued were filled with exciting scenes, that tried the new soldiers to the utmost, but there is no record of cowardice to show even against a corporal's guard of the volunteers. The mustering out has been going on gradually for the last two or three months, and the soldiers are returning to their homes and resuming their civic occupations without causing a ripple. This is another source of gratification to the president and his cabinet associates.

LEAVE FOR BUFFALO THURSDAY, JULY 25

Governor La Follette and Staff and Others to Attend Dedication of Wisconsin Building.

Madison, Wis., July 1.—Governor La Follette, all of the other state officers and their wives, with several other prominent citizens, will leave for Buffalo July 25 to be present at the dedication of the Wisconsin building at the Pan-American exposition. So many requests for places on the train are being received that a special train will probably be run though the original plan was to run one or two coaches for the governor and his party, attached to a regular train.

The trip will be made over the Northwestern road to Chicago, and over the Nickel Plate from there to Buffalo. Returning those in the party can come as far as Cleveland by water, if they prefer. The plan is to remain at Buffalo about a week. The fare for the round trip from Madison will be between $16 and $17.

Tunnel Caves in on Train

Baltimore, Md., July 1.—The Pennsylvania railroad, tunnel running through this city caved in shortly before 3 o'clock this morning. The Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore express train leaving the Union station at 1:52 was caught in the debris, but as far as known no one was injured. The Pennsylvania railroad will probably use the Baltimore & Ohio tunnel until the tracks are repaired.

RACE FOR NORTH AND SOUTH POLES

Four Nations Now Attempting to Plant Their Flags at Extreme Ends of the Earth.

London, July 1.—While Explorer Baldwin is en route to the icy north bound to raise the American flag at the north pole, busy preparations are in progress for the British Antarctic expedition, which will leave England within the next two weeks. The enterprise has been made possible by public spirited Englishmen who have been generous contributors, and the work of equipment has been steadily going on for two years. It is conducted under the auspices of the Royal Geographical society.

While England and the United States are trying to reach the opposite poles Germany and Canada are not idle. Professor Deygalski will sail next month in charge of a big German expedition to the Antartics and the Canadians are engaged in an overland quest of the north pole. This makes four nations in an Arctic and Antarctic race in the first year of the new century.

ANOTHER BUFFALO BANK FAILURE

Buffalo, July 1.—The City National bank where Wm. Cornwell is president failed to open its doors this morning. Several of the large commissionaries on the Midway carried accounts with the City National.

Lightning Strikes High School

Berlin, Wis., July 1.—At 11:30 Saturday night lightning struck the high school building in this city. It was burned to the ground. It was built thirty-three years ago and valued at $30,000. Insured for $14,000.

Hine, and Isaac Tryon. Mr. Hine, who carried the mail between the postoffice and railroad station, was killed by the limited west-bound train while crossing the track in his buggy.

ELEVEN KNOWN TO BE KILLED

Lightning Struck a Pier in Chicago Where Men and Boys Were Fishing.

Chicago, July 1.—During a terrific storm that struck Chicago this afternoon lightning struck the pier north of Lincoln Park on which a crowd of men and boys were fishing. Eleven are known to have been killed and it is feared that there are other victims.

HARVEST WHEAT ON SABBATH

Kansas Farmers Keep Men and Machines Busy All Day.

Topeka, Kan., July 1.—Ten thousand and harvest machines were running in Kansas yesterday and 50,000 men labored from sunrise to sunset in the wheat fields. A great drought is sweeping over the West, and the wheat must be saved within a few days or much of the crop will be lost. A score of wheat fields have been burned by sparks from passing trains.

WISCONSIN CREW IS RATED HIGHEST

Chances Good That the Badger Boys Will Win the Boat Race at Poughkeepsie.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 1.—All the crews save that of Georgetown spent yesterday in resting for tomorrow's races. The preparation is now over, and the men are metaphorically resting on their oars, waiting the event which represents six months training and nearly $50,000 in the crew expenses alone.

The situation is the same as Saturday. No crew is as yet pronounced a favorite. Such betting as there has been is still at even money on any of the favorites, and two to one on a combination of two against the third crew. Wisconsin is a little stronger in public favor, but not on account of any tangible fact. She is liked because of past achievements. Such an air of mystery and reticence now surrounds the crew that no one has anything but a very general impression of its capabilities.

Predictions on the races Tuesday are being made as follows: Varsity race—Wisconsin, first; Cornell second; Columbia, third, with Pennsylvania, Syracuse and Georgetown fighting for fourth place. Freshmen race—Cornell, first; Columbia, second; Pennsylvania, third; Syracuse fourth. Four oared race—Pennsylvania, first; Columbia, second; Cornell third.

The judgment as to Wisconsin winning the Varsity race comes from an excellent source.

Women Hold Indignation Meetings

Denver, July 1.—Youths who make a business of ogling women on the streets are not to be treated with any consideration by the police, owing to the injection of politics into the regulation of city affairs. The mayor has sided with the mashers who were recently arrested, and the women have been holding indignation meetings to express themselves. The result is not by any means uncertain. The women are backed by the chief of police and the police magistrate who acts on all infractions of the city ordinances.

It is not unlikely that even the federal court will be dragged into the quarrel and a three-sided fight opened by the chivalrous candidates for the votes of suffragists. The reference to Uncle Sam is not overdrawn, for two of the worst cases of which the women especially complain occurred under the dome of the federal building, where the police have no authority and where the law provides no punishment for such offenses.

DRIVE OUT 'EVANGELISTS.

Roughly Treated for Interfering With Picknickers in Park.

Madison, Wis., July 1.—A party of evangelists headed by Frederick B. Duncan, were roughly treated at Schutzen park yesterday afternoon. Duncan and his followers went to the park for the purpose of dissuading the picknickers from drinking beer and indulging in the usual outdoor recreations. Some of the 2,000 people objected to what they considered the unwarranted interference of the evangelists and surrounding the little band they rushed it to the lake, where several of the members were pushed down a bank and into the water.

New York, July 1.—Martin King, a sugar mixer, 45 years old, met a horrible death in the Havemeyer sugar refinery in Brooklyn. King had charge of the ponderous sugar mixing machine and fell into it. He was practically cut to bits. Legs, arms, body and head were smashed to a pulp. The sugar in the mixer was crimson color. The machinery in the mixer had to be taken apart in order to remove the mangled bones and flesh.

50,000 STEEL MEN OUT ON A STRIKE

The Beginning of a Gigantic Struggle Between Capital and Labor.

STRIKE TO SPREAD

It Is Likely to Affect 200,000 Employees of the Great Steel Trust.

PLAN FOR THE FIGHT

Pittsburg, July 1.—President Schaffer of the Amalgamated association today issued an order calling out the 15,000 men employed by the American Steel Hoop Company. These, in addition to the workmen of the American Sheet Steel Company, who were ordered Saturday to strike, will make a total of 50,000 men involved in the wage dispute which may yet affect all the United States Steel Corporation. The reason for both strikes now ordered is the same—failure of the conferees to reach an agreement on the scale which expired at midnight last night.

Both the union and open mills of the Steel Hoop company are affected by the order.

Plan of Union Officials. Letters were sent to more than 60,000 members of the union throughout the middle west officially notifying them of the situation.

The advisory board of the association, composed of the vice-presidents and the national officers, has been called to meet this afternoon. On its action will depend whether the United States Steel corporation shall be attacked now or later.

The plan of the union officials to carry on the fight against the big combine is to notify all union men not to handle any of the product of the non-union mills. Should the combine succeed in getting new men to operate its sheet and hoop mills, which is not likely, as most of the mills are short handed now, the union will issue orders to its men in other plants not to handle any of the non-union made sheets or other material. If the men are discharged for doing this a general strike will result.

President Schaffer said in regard to his action:

"Over 30,000 men the combine employs did not go to work this morning. Some of them are not members of the union but they are in sympathy with us. I do not care to state now what we will do after we get the sheet and hoop men out. We take the ground that all sheet and hoop mills must be union or all mills be non-union, and this hot weather, when men do not want to work, is a good time to test it. The advisory board has approved my course in calling out all of the sheet men."

Woodworkers May Strike

Chicago, Ill., July 1.—Woodworkers to the number of 3,000 employed in the manufacture of bar, store and office fixtures in Chicago will in all probability be called out on a strike tomorrow. The present agreement of the union men with the manufacturers expires today and the workmen demand an increase of 25 cents a day in wages in the agreement to be signed for the next two years.

Chuan Will Visit America

Washington, July 1.—The state department has received a dispatch from Mr. Rockhill at Peking saying that Prince Chuan, brother of the emperor, sails for Germany July 20 on a special mission. He will return by way of America and is expected to reach this country early in October. The special mission is to apologize to the German government for the murder of its minister at Peking and other indignities to its citizens there. It is said to be a very unusual thing for a member of the imperial family to leave China. His coming to America is regarded as a particular mark of distinction.

LADIES TOOK HATS OFF IN CHURCH

PLEASING INNOVATION IN THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

Suggestion in the Calendar Yesterday Morning Promptly Complied With—Caused Much Favorable Comment—News and Notes From the Various Houses of Worship.

The Congregational church calendar contained the following unique announcement yesterday:

"We wish to make it the custom in this church beginning today, for the ladies to remove their hats during the services. It is already done elsewhere and will add immeasurably to the interest many will be able to take in the service. It is difficult to give attention if one cannot see the speaker or singer and at present with our flat floor this is often impossible. The ladies will be glad to do this we know, for the sake of increasing the enjoyment others may have in the services of our church."

The suggestion was acted on with a readiness that showed that Rev. R. C. Denison's confidence in the ladies of his church had not been misplaced. The result was very gratifying and pleasing and caused much favorable comment after both morning and evening services. It made the audience more attractive in appearance and increased the comfort of everybody. While the appeal was made to the ladies in the interests of other peoples' comfort, the ladies found that in caring for the comfort of others they increased their own.

Many expressed their pleasure at being relieved of so small a burden as a hat under the existing altitude of the thermometer. In the evening many of the ladies did not even wear their hats to church. The Congregational church is to be congratulated on taking the initiatory step in the establishment of a custom that will doubtless be speedily adopted by the other churches. The custom has common sense, comfort and beauty of appearance and it deserves to prevail throughout the churches of the city.

Will Observe the Fourth

The services at the Congregational church next Sunday morning will be national in character in commemoration of our nation's birthday which will be celebrated next Thursday, July 4.

Owing to the fact that next Thursday will be the Fourth of July the mid-week prayer meetings will be held on Wednesday evening, except at the Court Street M. E. church which will omit the prayer meeting service this week.

At the other churches the subject for the service will be in keeping with the spirit of the day. At the Congregational church the subject will be "Our Country—Its Needs and Its Strength and What We Can Contribute to Its Life." Reference Ps. 33, 10-22. At the Baptist church, "Love of Country" will be the subject under consideration. Reference Ps. 48. At the Presbyterian church Secretary J. C. Kline will give an account of the Boston Y. M. C. A. convention.

The church committee of the Congregational church will meet after prayer meeting next Wednesday evening.

Vaughan preaching. Rev. Vaughan's subject will be "Paul Near Damascus" and it will be the final sermon in his series on "Crises in Great Lives." The custom of holding union evening services during the months of July and August is one of long standing with the five churches named. It has been one of the great factors in promoting the friendship and fellowship which exists between the churches.

EXHIBIT PLANS FOR NEW CITY HALL

Proposed Building Will Be a Very Handsome Structure of Cut Stone—Tudor-Gothic Design.

A. W. Rush, of E. W. Rush & Co., Grand Rapids, Mich., was in the city Saturday with the plans for the new city hall, which he is submitting to the building committee of the common council.

The proposed building will be a very handsome structure of cut stone, of Tudor-Gothic design. It is two stories high with a basement and a tower 112 feet high with a clock face on each side.

The building will be 74x101, with the long side on Jackson street. The basement is ten feet high, the first floor, fourteen and the second, seventeen feet. All the entrances and corridors are finished with tile and marble.

The main entrance is on Jackson street in the center of the building and is very imposing with a carved arch top. It leads into the tiled vestibule to the foot of the grand stairway which is twenty feet wide which runs to the rotunda on the second floor under a large skylight which makes all parts of the corridor light as day. All the ornaments are carved from solid stone.

The Wall street entrance leads directly into the basement and to a stairway leading to the first floor.

The basement contains the offices of the chief of police, city engineer and street commissioner, storage room and storage vaults, cells for men and women prisoners, tramps' room, and boiler rooms.

The main floor has the municipal court room on the side next the alley fronting on Jackson street, clerk's office and vault and judge's library room, all of which are accessible from the court room. A private stairway leads from the court room to the prisoners' cells in the basement.

The city clerk and city treasurer's offices are on the corner of Jackson and Wall streets. Each has a large public space and are connected with three private offices and fitted with two large vaults. There is also a room for the street assessment committee, a jury room and an unassigned room.

The second floor has the council chamber 32x43, and an assembly room 68x34 ft., 2 in., both connected with the grand corridor. The mayor also has a private office on this floor, besides which there is an unassigned room and toilet rooms.

The committee will at once advertise for bids and will be ready to award the contracts for the work in two weeks. The building when completed will be one of the finest structures in the city.

LITTLE FOLKS HAVE A HAPPY TIME

Little Jeannette Page was a happy maiden today, and thirty-five of her young friends were even happier than their merry, charming hostess, if that were possible. Today was the fifth anniversary of Jeannette's birthday, and this afternoon a joyous celebration was held at the home of Miss Jeannette's grandmother, Mrs. Emma A. Ripley, 354 Court street. The guests were invited for 3 o'clock, and from hour until early evening there was the music of children's merry voices and happy laughter at Mrs. Ripley's home. Miss Ruth Oliver, aunt of the youthful hostess, devoted herself to the entertainment of the juvenile guests, who enjoyed heartily the games which she planned for them. Supper was prettily served on the lawn, and it was a beautiful picture which was made by the children as they enjoyed the birthday feast. The happy time came to a close all too soon, for hostess and guests and little Miss Page received many handsome souvenirs of the day.

CHURCHES WERE WELL ATTENDED

HOT WEATHER DID NOT EFFECT SERVICES MUCH.

Most of the Pastors Cut Their Services Short Yesterday—Informal Talk at Congregational Church—Special Program by the Sunday School of the First M. E. Church

In spite of the excessive heat yesterday there was a large attendance at all of the churches especially at the morning service. The atmosphere grew more oppressive as the night drew on and the effect of the increased heat had a visible effect on the evening audiences.

Most of the pastors recognized the discomfort which the faithful ones who sat in the pews fanning themselves and mopping their shining faces suffered and cut short their sermons. In days gone by this would have been a thing unheard of. The old time minister must needs have waded through every word of his prepared sermon from the beginning through the first to the sixth and then to the "finally, my brethren." If the audience suffered discomfort it was but a test of their religion and redounded to their glory of endured patiently. Times have changed however, and the change is a welcome one. Church services are made pleasant and attractive and, instead of losing force in the process, increase their power to reach and hold people.

The day of the long drawn out sermon has passed away and pastors have learned to preach concisely in place of the former elaboration which thrashed the sermon so threadbare that the hearer was left nothing to think about. Pastors have also learned that the best sermon in the world can be too long to be effective and a hot summer evening is one of those times.

For some time past several of the local churches have adopted the plan of a one hour service for the evening and many of the calendars distinctly state that the evening service will continue from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock. Under the unusual warmth of last evening several of the pastors closed the service at 8:15.

Rev. R. C. Denison of the Congregational church did not attempt to preach the sermon which he had announced but gave a very helpful and interesting informal talk on man's inner life. The service at the First M. E. church was also very brief, the Rev. W. W. Woodside giving some practical thoughts on "How to Make Every Day Life Easy, Pleasant and Profitable." He said that he believed God kindly disposed towards all people and is intensely interested in man's temporal, spiritual and eternal welfare. It is the will of the father that everyone should be happy and contented here and supremely happy hereafter. He has promised to give man the good things of this life.

The speaker thought that everyday life would profit if man would get the right conception of what prosperity is. Most men look at it from a human standpoint and get a wrong conception of prosperity. A person cannot be happy and prosperous in the truest sense unless he is a Christian. Some people who live in mansions are paupers. Everyday life will mean more, it will be more delightful if we grasp the truth that all honest toil is the service of God. Too many get the wrong idea that Sunday service is the only worship of God. Man will get more pleasure and profit out of his work if he does it with the thought that he is glorifying his Maker. Above all to make everyday life easy the spirit of forbearance and patience should be cultivated. We need patience especially during these heated days and it will help wonderfully over hard places. Again, life will be more profitable if we are always on the alert to help others and if we learn the lesson of transferring our burdens to the burden bearer. Too often we make the mistake of trying to bear the burdens of our lives when there is one who is anxious to bear them for us. Life at home, in business and in society will be easy and profitable if it is lived for the pleasure and service of God.

After the service the male quartet sang a beautiful selection. Rev. Woodside's remarks were preceded by an anthem excellently rendered by the chorus choir with Miss Elva Crawford at the organ. There was a special service during the Sunday school hour yesterday noon at the First M. E. church. It was the quarterly review lesson and was made very interesting by short talks on each lesson of the quarter. The program included the following interesting lesson talks: "The Resurrection," by Mrs. Woodside; "Jesus to Mary," by Anna Knights; "Walk to Emmaus," by Arthur Clark; "Jesus to Apostles," by Elva Crawford; "Jesus to Peter," by Cora Wilhelmy; "The Great Commission," by W. J. Knights; "Jesus Ascends to Heaven," by W. J. Rothermel; "The Holy Spirit Given," by J. C. Kline; "Our High Priest," by A. W. Hall; "Jesus to Paul," by A. Crawford; "Jesus to John," by Mrs. Davidson; and "A New Heaven and Earth," by J. A. Canniff.

The service was brightened by excellent music, including a selection by the male quartet, vocal solos by Mrs. Richards and A. Crawford, an instrumental solo by Arthur Clark and a song by the infant class. tfttqse-hwoudtionflz ocooc.MMMMM

AN EVENT FOR THE LOVERS OF HORSES

Fine Afternoon of Sport Promised on Friday, July 5—To Offer Some Races.

Local lovers of trotting races will be given a chance to witness a fine day for the entertainment and on Friday afternoon, July 5th. For some time past the promoters of the races have been engaged in securing horses for the entertainment and have succeeded beyond their expectations in securing horses for the meet. Rock county has always been the home of numbers of good horses and there is still a number of fast ones in the surrounding towns that can get out and go some when called upon.

The different classes for the races have filled with horses, that assures one of the best day's legitimate racing that has been offered to the lovers of trotting and pacing races for five years past.

The free-for-all pace will undoubtedly prove to be a most enjoyable affair as 2:20 is liable to be beaten every heat in the race.

In the 2:40 trot and pace the horses are evenly matched in speed and will be driven by their owners who are naturally anxious to win and will make a hot fight for the first place.

The 2:20 class should prove to be an interesting contest. The fastest horses in this section are entered and will be driven to win. Take it all together it will be the best racing entertainment ever given in Janesville and the admission will be but twenty-five cents.

FOR HIGHER GRADES OF LEAF TOBACCO

Tobacco growers in the northwest will be especially interested in a statement made by Secretary Wilson of the agricultural department today to the president and members of the cabinet in regard to what is being done by the department to encourage the production of the higher grades of leaf tobacco in this country. Secretary Wilson pointed out that this country produces about $30,000,000 worth of tobacco, and buys abroad about $15,000,000 worth of the finer grades, not less than $5,000,000 going for Sumatra wrappers. He said the department is doing a good work in instructing the farmers how to produce this fine wrapper tobacco, with such success that we took the gold medal at the Paris exposition on the finest grades of wrapper leaf. He said the department is now conducting the experiments which are expected to result in successfully demonstrating that the finer grades of filler tobacco known to Cuba can be successfully produced in this country. The secretary also took occasion to say something about the success of the beet sugar industry.

LIFE OF THE BEE A CURIOUS STORY

Mysterious and Wonderful Facts of Bee Life Set Forth in an Interesting Book.

A curious and amazingly interesting book is "The Life of the Bee," by Maurice Maeterlinck. It is a nature book—a careful, patient setting down of facts observed through 20 years of watching—and it is much more. While aiming at scientific accuracy and holding fast to truth, even where truth operates, against theory and hypothesis, the writer has evolved a thrilling narrative. Throughout the book are scattered gems of beautiful phrase, beautiful imagery, profound reflections.

"The spirit of the hive is prudent and thrifty, but by no means parsimonious. And thus, aware, it would seem, that nature's laws are somewhat wild and extravagant in all that pertains to love, it tolerates during summer days of abundance, the embarrassing presence in the hive of three or four hundred males, from whose ranks the queen about to be born selects her lover—three or four hundred foolish, clumsy, useless, noisy creatures, who are pretentious, gluttonous, dirty, coarse, totally and scandalously idle, insatiable and enormous.

"But after the queen's impregnation, when the flowers begin to close sooner and open later, the spirit will one morning coldly decree the simultaneous and general massacre of every male. It regulates the worker's labor with due regard to their age, it allots their task to the nurses who tend the nymphs and the larvae, the ladies of honor who wait on the queen and never allow her out of their sight, the house bees who air, refresh or heat the hive by fanning their wings and hasten the evaporation of the honey that may be too highly charged with water; the architects, masons, wax-workers and sculptors, who form the chain and construct the combs; the foragers who sally forth to the flowers in search of the nectar that turns into honey, of the pollen that feeds the nymphs and the larvae, the propolis that weds and strengthens the buildings of the city, or the water and salt required by the youth of the nation.

"Its orders have gone to the chemists who insure the preservation of the honey by letting a drop of formic acid fall in from the end of their sting; to the capsule makers who seal down the cells when the treasure is ripe; to the sweepers who maintain public places and streets irreproachably clean; to the bearers whose duty it is to remove the corpses, and to the amazons of the guard who keep watch of the threshold by night and by day, and question comers and goers, recognize the novices who return from their very first flight, scare away vagabonds, marauders and loiterers, expel all intruders, attack redoubtable forces in a body, and if need be, barricade the entrance.

"Finally, it is the spirit of the hive that fixes the hour of the great annual sacrifice to the genius of the race—the hour, that is, of the swarm; when we find a whole people who have attained the topmost pinnacle of prosperity and power, suddenly abandoning to the generation to come their wealth and their palaces, their homes and the fruits of their labor, themselves content to encounter the hardships and perils of a new and distant country. This act, be it conscious or not, undoubtedly surpasses the limits of human morality. Its results will sometimes be ruin, but perversely always, and the thrice happy city is scattered abroad in obedience to a law superior to its own happiness."

From this point the writer enters into an intimate accounting of the mysterious and wonderful facts of bee life, its tireless industry, absolute unselfishness, absolute subordination of every individual to the ends for which the hive exists. He tells us that the laws of heredity are perfectly controlled, that the queen can determine the sex of the egg and produce workers or drones at will, that from the hundreds, sometimes thousands of drones in the hive one only is chosen for the queen's mate, and that he dies upon his wedding day; that the queen lives for five or six years thereafter, never doing anything but laying eggs.

In nothing is the wild and amazing prodigality of nature shown more strikingly than in the hive. The males are drones, parasites, getting the best of food, attention, and care from the moment of their birth, overrunning the hive with their numbers. Though they never work or do anything but eat, sun themselves and sleep, they have nevertheless infinitely more advantages for maintaining life than the poor workers. "They have a helmet made of enormous black pearls, two lofty, quivering plumes, a double of iridescent, yellow velvet, a heroic tuft, and a four-fold mantle, translucent and rigid. * * * Nature is always magnificent when dealing with the privileged and prerogatives of love. She becomes miserly only when doling out the organs and instruments of labor. * * * From her life to her death the austere forager (the worker-bee) has to travel abroad in search of the nuptial flowers that hide in the depths of the thicket.

She has to discover the honey and pollen that lurk in the labyrinths of the nectaries and in the most secret recesses of the anthers. And yet her eyes and olfactory organs are like the eyes and organs of the infirm compared with those of the male.

"Were the drones almost blind, had they only the most rudimentary sense of smell, they scarcely would suffer. They have nothing to do; no prey to hunt down; their food is brought them ready prepared, and their existence is spent in the obscurity of the hive, lapping honey from the comb. But they are the agents of love; and the most enormous, most useless gifts are flung with both hands into the abyss of the future. * * * To every one of these unlikely lovers, of whom 999 will be put to death a few days after the fatal nuptials of the thousandth she has given 13,000 eyes on each side of his head, while the worker has only 6,000. * * * She has provided each of his antennae with 37,800 olfactory cavities, while the worker has only 6,000 in both.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

PHILADELPHIA VS. BOSTON.

Governor Crane has vetoed a measure concerning street railway franchises because he felt that the public were not being properly paid for the privileges which the governor of Pennsylvania did not hesitate to give away.

Rarely have legislators been so influenced by a governor's veto as in this case, a vote of 45 to 43 being changed to 98 to 135 by the governor's veto message.

Boston has valuable subway privileges and knows how much they are worth to any corporation. It is nothing more than just that any private company should be compelled to pay a city for the privilege of using public thoroughfares for private gain.

Philadelphia and all other cities in Pennsylvania are to be the prey of politicians who expect to use public streets for personal gain and are not asked to even offer first-class service, or a limit to the fares charged, or a limit to the time of operating these railways. There is almost no restriction placed on the companies, but the public is bound hand and foot. They are compelled to ride either in the cars or in a private equipage which most of them cannot afford to own; they will be compelled to pay just as much as the company chooses to charge them, and their streets can be impassable for any length of time, convenient to the company, and the companies have the sole right to the streets for an indefinite period.

For all of these privileges the companies are not asked one cent, they are relieved from their share of the support of the city government and consequently will become enormously wealthy. The vast wealth enjoyed by any corporation is a constant menace to the people of a community.

Some idea of the value of these franchises can be obtained from the fact that John Wanamaker not only offered the city of Philadelphia $2,500,000 for the franchises that were given away, but also $500,000 to the politicians if they would give him their franchises before they had put one dollar into building the roads, and they refused. This means that these franchises are certainly worth more than $3,000,000. Why, then, should they escape their share of the public burden?

CO-OPERATION.

Assemblyman Frost has a plan of co-operation among farmers' wives whereby a great deal of labor can be done for them at a centrally located station at small cost. Co-operative creameries have been tried before and found to pay well besides relieving the housewife of making butter or cheese, which makes her burden just so much lighter and gives just so much time for pleasanter occupation. Then comes the co-operative laundry, which is the new feature of Mr. Frost's plan, and if a sufficient number of farmers will support it, there seems no reason why it should not succeed and be likewise a benefit.

The rural mail delivery system is a great blessing to the farmer, it brings the daily paper to his door, rain or shine and the press is a great educator among people who do not have the advantages of a public or the possession of a private library.

We would go one step further and furnish the farmers with traveling libraries controlled from a central city library. The advantages of these libraries have been referred to in these columns before, and the National Library Association are talking about recommending the experiment to be made in farming communities where the rural mail delivery system can facilitate the distribution of the books.

These improvements serve to make the farmer's life less a drudgery and more inviting, and anything that will keep our youth from crowding the cities, will result in good to mankind.

We notice in the case of Profs. Cheever and Hutton, that trained educators who have good positions and reputations are slow to risk them for positions so uncertain as the Board of Control have made some of the state positions, where permanency depends on ability to please more than on some other qualifications.

The state of New Jersey is to be congratulated on the decision that no husband can take the law into his own hands, and become judge, jury and executioner. The decision in the Barker-Keller case establishes more confidence in our system of dispensing justice.

Many people are not as careful in forming and expressing judgments on others as they wish others to be in criticizing themselves. Not until you know a man about a person as that individual, are you competent to sit as a judge. "Let him that is without sin cast the first stone."

Farmers are telephone mad in some sections of the country; those who cannot get service from a central station are installing private "phones," using fence posts for poles. Most farmers find it an advantage to be able to communicate with the city in regard to grain and produce values.

Preferred creditors are below par since the decision against them by the Supreme court, upholding a vital clause of the new bankruptcy law. The decision takes away a loophole by means of which dishonest men might defraud merchants to a considerable extent.

The suffering of Cecil Rhodes from a slow but fatal disease is convincing of the futility of wealth and power to bring the happiness of health.

A Lady Dies of Joy.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 1.—After a separation of twenty-two years the greeting of two sisters was stopped by death within ten minutes after they had met. Mrs. James Conn, a resident of the state of Missouri, arrived at the town of London, Shelby county, to visit her sister, Mrs. John Berman. She had not been feeling well and the excitement of seeing her sister, from whom she had been separated so long, caused her to collapse. She was assisted to her sister's home and expired within a very few moments without having been able to speak.

Curfew Law a Dead Letter.

Wabash, Ind., July 1.—The curfew ordinance passed by the city council has fallen into innocuous desuetude. It was adopted by the council three years ago and for two years was obeyed by the juvenile inhabitants. Discovering that infractions of the ordinance passed unpunished and unbuked, children disregarded the prohibition, and scores under 16 are on the streets nightly after 9 o'clock. The curfew is the whistle at the Wabash Water and Electric Light Company's power station.

Barber's Pole Costs a Life.

Xenia, O., July 1.—Richard Hendrickson, a barber, killed Thomas Goldy in Perry's saloon after an argument concerning the breaking of Hendrickson's barber pole. Both were drinking. Goldy tried to strike Hendrickson with his first. Hendrickson hit Goldy with a beer bottle and fractured his skull. Goldy died half an hour later. Hendrickson is in jail and claims self-defense.

Swimming Teacher Drowns.

Passaic, N. J., July 1.—John Goodwin, teacher at the swimming school, while overseeing pupils bathing in a Passaic basin, was seized with cramps and drowned before assistance could reach him. He was an expert swimmer, and though he made heroic efforts to get ashore, when the muscles contracted he sank and did not reappear. Life was extinct when the body was recovered.

Horse Had the Rabies.

Newark, N. J., July 1.—The Pasture Institute of New York has reported that a horse belonging to James Roche, which died recently, had the rabies. Edward Carney, in the employ of Roche, was bitten by the horse, and the wound has been cauterized. A guinea pig which was inoculated with a piece of the medulla died of rabies.

Alton Suffers from Fire.

Alton, Ill., July 1.—Fire which started in Siebold's livery stable, on Plaza street, destroyed that and other property, causing a loss of about $70,000. A high wind was blowing at the time and the best the firemen could do was to confine it to the south half of the block in which it began. In less than half an hour all the buildings were destroyed.

CUBAN ELECTORAL PLAN

Report Deals with Elections of Minor Officials.

THE HOUSE MEMBERSHIP.

Commission Fixes Basis at One to 25,000 Population—It Declares the Choosing of Councilors Is Urgent—Appointment of the Representatives.

Havana, July 1.—The project for an electoral law as drawn up by the commission appointed for the purpose is published. It deals only with the election of representatives, provincial governors, councilors, mayors, and ayuntamientos. A law regarding the election of a president and senate is not outlined yet. The report says that the election of provincial councilors is urgent, as these councilors, together with double their number of electors will elect a senate, and the senate and house of representatives together will decide regarding the legality of the election of a president. The project, in conformity with the constitution, recognizes the representation of minorities. The constitution says that the house of representatives shall consist of one member for every 25,000 inhabitants. This will give Havana seventeen members. Santa Clara fourteen, Santiago thirteen, Matanzas eight, Pinar del Rio seven, and Puerto Principe four. The electors may vote for eleven members in Havana, nine in Santa Clara, eight in Santiago, five in Matanzas, four in Pinar del Rio, and three in Puerto Principe. Regarding provincial councilors the constitution says that the number in each province shall not exceed twenty, nor be less than eight.

The project gives Havana twenty, Santa Clara and Santiago seventeen each, Matanzas fifteen, Pinar del Rio twelve, and Puerto Principe eight. The electors can vote for thirteen councilors in Havana, eleven each in Santa Clara and Santiago, ten in Matanzas, eight in Pinar del Rio, and five in Puerto Principe. The project says that the commission wished to prevent at all cost the intervention of the government in the elections, since many of the authorities have shown incapacity in these matters, while others used their authority in a despotic manner for their personal ends. On such a foundation the rule of local chiefs is based. The commission has taken away all right of intervention on the part of the government authorities and puts all election matters in the hands of an electoral commission, composed of members of the different political parties.

Buffalo Bank Falls.

Washington, July 1.—Comptroller of the Currency Dawes has appointed a temporary receiver of the City National bank of Buffalo, N. Y. The temporary receiver is E. J. Vaughan, national bank examiner. The failure of the bank is due to injudicious loans. It is not thought that the loss to depositors will be large.

Fruits for Children.

For children especially fruits in their season are an ideal diet, and should be conscientiously insisted upon. A small bill for the doctor would buy fruit for a long time. One who makes a business of the study of such matters says that the value of fruit is fresh, canned, preserved or dried. "If," says Professor Allen, "one-half the meat, one-fourth the bread, and all the candy given to children could be made to give place to fruit, the death rate among the children would be greatly reduced, their bodies would be better formed, and they would be more healthy than most of them now are."

Gymnasiums in America.

Much that was said by teachers of physical culture at their recent convention in New York deserves a wider audience than the gathering of specialists to whom it was addressed. Physical training in some form or other is now provided in 270 American colleges, by the public schools of 300 cities and in about 500 Young Men's Christian Association gymnasiums. The North American Turnbund has 300 gymnasiums, and there are several hundred others in army and navy posts, police stations, missions, fire engine houses and industrial schools; while thousands of clubs foster such special interests as bicycling, boating, golf, tennis, baseball and football.

Monte Carlo's Casino.

The casino at Monte Carlo, the most gorgeous gambling establishment in the world, was opened by M. Blanc, a famous gambling resort organizer, in 1853. He offered the late Prince Floristan II. of Monaco 12,000,000 francs ($2,400,000) and an annual rent of 150,000 francs ($30,000) for the use of the casino for gambling purposes, and it was accepted.

Negro College Graduates.

It is estimated that 30,000 negroes have been graduated from colleges and industrial schools in the south, at a cost of $100,000,000. Most of this money has been contributed by northerners.

Drugs, Surgery or Electricity.

Magnetism is not hypnotism, the latter deadens the faculties; the former gives them life. Magnetism inspires, thrills, enlivens, awakens and enlivens. Prof. Funk does not claim to do miracles, but the rapid progress his patients are making towards health certainly borders on the miraculous. A long list of pronounced incurable cases have been treated by Prof. Funk and permanently cured. His success on treating diseases by Vital Magnetism has been demonstrated repeatedly by the numerous testimonials of people in this vicinity. Even the most skeptical have been forced to acknowledge that Prof. Funk has performed many wonderful cures, his success being based upon a thorough understanding of magnetic healing and good judgment in applying treatments to suit the needs of each case.

Prof. Funk will continue to give free treatments Monday, Wednesday and Friday of next week. Many have already taken advantage of his liberal offer, yet he extends this most generous one more week, so that all may avail themselves of the opportunity of testing the merits of his magnetic treatments.

WAS IT ACCIDENT OR A SUICIDE?

PHILIP FREDENDALL IS FOUND DEAD IN ROCK RIVER.

He Was About Thirty-Two Years of Age, and a Resident of Clinton—Was Addicted to the Use of Liquor and Drugs—Had Been Working in This City Lately.

Philip Fredendall, thirty-two years of age, a resident of Clinton, came to his end last night about 6:30 o'clock by drowning in Rock river.

Whether he accidentally fell into the river or he deliberately walked out into the water and committed suicide is not clearly established. When found he was in about three feet of water in a stooping position with the back of his head and his shoulders above the water, his face being submerged.

Fredendall came to Janesville about six weeks ago. He was a bartender by trade and worked for a short time for his cousin, Chauncey Fredendall at his saloon on North Main street. He also worked a short time for M. M. Farley and also for Con McDonald. He was addicted to the use of liquor and morphine and on that account did not hold a position very long.

He has been under the influence of liquor or drugs most of the time since he has been in the city and was a patient of Dr. Black who was trying to cure him of a desire for liquor or drugs.

For the last week he has been going it pretty strong and his system had about collapsed. He had spoken several times about ending his life so that his end may not have been accidental.

Yesterday afternoon about 5:40 o'clock Alva Russell went up to his barn on North Blue street and found Fredendall asleep in his bus. He made him get out of the bus and he walked off up to North First street where he turned down to main street and walked down the alleyway alongside of the East Side engine house and climbed down off the platform to the river bank and sat down at the edge of the water.

Con. Murphy, James McGinley, Ben Dugan and Pat Gallagher saw him go down the alleyway and thought he looked pretty shaky. About six o'clock they walked down to the river and saw Fredendall sitting on the bank apparently all right. At 6:30 Murphy, McGinley and Dugan went down to the river again to see if he was still there. He was not on the bank and about that time Dugan saw him in the water.

Dugan and Murphy got a boat and went out after his body while McGinley ran to telephone the police. It was just twenty-five minutes to seven when Dugan and Murphy got the body ashore. They felt of his heart and pulse when they got him out but there was no movement of either. A barrel was secured and the body rolled and worked for a long time without any results so they abandoned the job.

He was taken to Daniel Ryan & Sons' undertaking room and his body prepared for burial. While the body was being laid out it was found that his arms and back were covered with marks made by a hypodermic syringe when morphine is injected under the skin, showing that he was a habitual user of the drug.

His father, John Fredendall and mother and two sisters live at Clinton and his brother, George H. Fredendall resides at Beloit where he is clerk at the Goodwin house. He has another brother living at Marinette.

There seems to be hardly any doubt but that he deliberately waded out into the river. As the water was not deep at this point he was obliged to get his head under water. He seemed to be a quiet young man whose greatest trouble was that he was up against the "dope" and while under its influence could not control his actions.

Mr. Fredendall's father of Clinton and his brother of Beloit arrived in the city this noon and made arrangements to have the body taken to Clinton, Tuesday morning at 11:30 o'clock for burial.

MOTHER AND SON BURIED YESTERDAY

In the peaceful twilight Saturday evening just as the sun was sinking to rest two caskets were lowered into the earth's bosom at Oak Hill cemetery. In one there rested all that was mortal of a devoted mother and her infant son whom death had claimed within a few days of each other and in the second casket lay the remains of the infant boy's grandmother, while among the mourners who clustered around the newly made graves was Frank Collins of Fort Worth, Tex., whose mother, wife and son were being laid in their final resting place.

Mrs. Della Collins for many years a resident of this city and mother of Frank and Warren Collins, at one time prominent music dealers of this city, died at Fort Worth, Tex., four and one half years ago. One year later Mrs. Mattie Cleland Collins, wife of Frank H. Collins and beloved in this city, which was her former home, also died at Fort Worth, following closely her infant son, James Cleland Collins.

The remains were temporarily interred at Fort Worth and Saturday evening they were brought to this city by the bereaved son, husband and father. The caskets were taken directly to Oak Hill cemetery where a brief service was conducted by the Rev. J. T. Henderson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, in the presence of a small company of sorrowing relatives and friends. The service was an impressive one, the beauty of the early evening surrounding the scene with a quiet and comforting peacefulness.

Mrs. Jessie Harris Funeral

Possible Clue to John Nicholson's Whereabouts.

By means of a telephone message from the Janesville Barb Wire Co., we learn that there was at one time a man by that name in their employ. As Mr. Nicholson was a machinist when insured, this was probably the man that the ETNA LIFE is waiting to pay an endowment to. His exact location at the present time is uncertain. Can anyone give further information?

COMPLAINT ABOUT ELECTRIC LIGHTS

The electric light at the intersection of Main and Milwaukee streets, one of the most important places in the city for a light, is a disgrace to the city.

For the last two weeks there has not been a night that it gives more than one quarter of the light that the contract calls for and last night it was out entirely and did not burn for several hours.

With the building going on at the Jackson block and with the sidewalk covered with an awning it is important that a good light should be maintained at this point.

It is not only at this point that the lights are poor and away below contract but they can be found all over the city.

On the night of the fire at the stone crusher only about one light in three was burning on Pleasant street and the ones that were burning were of no good to the department the light being too feeble to be of any use.

It would be a good thing if the chairman of the lighting committee would give a little more time in seeing that the city is properly lighted and less fighting the railroad.

New Rural Mail Route

A rural mail route that will accommodate about 800 people was started this morning when H. S. Ames started out towards Center at 8:30 o'clock.

The regular time for the arrival and departure of the mail on this new route has not yet been determined. The route goes west from this city out through Center to Fisher's Corners, thence north to the Evansville road, thence east to the Rock River house and down the west side of the river to the city. The route is about twenty-three miles in length and goes through a thickly settled farming community. The compensation is $500 per year.
